Maintain Lifesaving Cancer Screening
& Prevention Services

Please support expanded funding for the Alabama Breast & Cervical Cancer Early Detection Program.

Early detection is a key to survival. When breast cancer or cervical cancer is detected early, before it spreads, the 5-year survival rate is over 90 percent.

The Alabama Breast & Cervical Cancer Early Detection Program estimates as many as 6,000 fewer eligible Alabama women will be screened next year due to funding cuts from the CDC.

As your constituent, I urge you to support an increase in funding for the Alabama Breast & Cervical Cancer Early Detection Program to ensure that eligible women have access to this lifesaving program.
